WEIR AND WARREN FIGHT.

TWENTY ROUNDS WITH HARD GLOVES END IN A DRAW.

Soth Fight Camely-Warren Badly Pun ished, but Sings Hard to the Last-Welr as Fresh as a Daisy-A Big Crowd Present. MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 12.—The Weir-Warren twenty-round glove-fight drew about 4.000 peo-ple to the Washington Rink to-night. A plat-form four feet high was creeted and a twentyfour-foot ring staked off, and seats arranged about it. Delegations of sporting men from La Crosse, Winona. Duluth, and St. Paul, with sprinkling from Eastern cities, were present. Mutuals were sold before the fight, Weir being quoted at $10. Warren at $9. and a draw at $11. Bide bets were freely made on even money for small sums. The men were weighed twelve hours before the fight, Weir scaling 117% and

Warren 116% pounds.
At 9 o'clock the announcement was made that the contestants had agreed that Mayor Ames should choose the referee, and John Barnes, manager of the St. Paul Base Ball Club, Ike Weir, the Belfast Spider, champion feather weight of England, was first to make his appearance, with his seconds, John Donaldson of Minneapolis and Jimmy Connelly of Boston. Welr wore green knee breeches and red stockings.

Tommy Warren, champion feather weight of America, came shortly afterward, his seconds being John Clough of Duluth and Paddy Norton of St. Paul. Warren's colors were white ton of St. Paul. Warren's colors were white with black stockings. Both men were greeted with entausiastic applause. Two-ounce gloves were selected.

Time was called for the first round at 9:25. Weir made the first advance, but fell short, and two short-arm exchanges followed and the referce parted them. Weir led again, landing on Warren's nose, drawing first blood, warren countering on the neck. After another breakaway. Both men eanne up lively for the fourth, Weir leading as usual. Warren landed heavily on the Spidor's chest, nearly lifting him from his feet. In the rush boils got in heavy body blows before the break. Weir tried an ineffectual upper cut. Weir placed his left lightly on Warren's shoulder. Weir landed heavily on Warren's left eve, and followed with a light one on the stendler. Slightly staggering him.

The sixth round opened with feinting. Warren seemed the fresher at the dose.

In seventh began cautiously. Weir led, but fell short, and Warren landed lightly, following with his right, which Weir elevely dodged. Warren placed his left hard on the Spider's jaw, and the latter countered lightly.

There was little choice in the leighth, Weir led three times before reaching, then got in two solid ones on Warren's chest. In the clinch Warren landed heavily with his right on Weir's ribs.

At the beginning of the ninth, Weir had done all the leading. Weir led weir was the fre round to escape.

The sixteenth round gave Warren three on the face before the clinch. Weir got in two more on Warren's damaged nose. A clinch was the first of the seventeenth. Weir led rapidly, lan i g lightly with his left, then an upper cut on the chin. After a clinch Warren put his left on Weir's cheek. Weir got in a vicious one on Warren's jugular, and vushed. Warren landed on Weir's chin, and Weir retailiated on the head. Warren seemed to get his second wind and some rapid work followed, each man giving and taking.

Warren came up lively for the eighteenth round. The first half of the round was given to sparring. Weir rushed without effect. Weir taped Warren on mouth. More sparring. Weir opened the nineteenth with his left on Warren's chin. Weir put his left on Warren's nose, starting the blood again. Weir now rushed his man, finding Warren's bruised face whenever he felt like it.

The twentieth and last round found Warren terribly punished about the face—both eyes nearly closed, lips swollen, and nose bleeding. Weir was without a mark. Weir forced things, but Warren gannely stood his punishment, receiving several blows in the face. Then he seemed to recover, and landed heavily on Weir's neek and chin, and then on his neck. Weir hacked Warren off his feet by a blow with his right on the ribs. Warren now got in heavily on Weir's neek, and Weir countered on the nose. Time was called. A regular uproar followed, after which the reforee declared the fight a draw.

The fight was for twenty rounds with hard gloves, the winner to take 75 and the loser 25 per cent, of the gate receipts.

SULLIVAN IN IRELAND.

Dublin Gives the Big Fellow a Tremendous Reception.

From the Evening Sun.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—All Dublin is talking today about the distinguished visitor who arrived in Ireland's capital last evening. For the moment he shares public attention with his namesake, Lord Mayor Sullivan, and other patriots in Tuliamore jail. Sullivan's reception last evening was marvellously enthusiastic and brought forcibly home to the champion's mind the fact that he was now with the warmhearted people of the land from which he is proud to claim descent.

Not fewer than 15,000 people gathered at the

Not fewer than 15,000 people gathered at the steamboat depot, and their cheering when steamboat depot, and their cheering when sullivan, Phillips, and the other members of the party made their appearance was something to remember. Two brass bands were there, too, and vied with each other in the energy and enthusiasm with which they played "bee, the Conquering Hero Comes." "The Wearing of the Green, and other complimentary and natriotic tunes.

Bullivan and wife, Phillips and wife, Barnett and Achton, marched proudly to their carriages and, having taken their seats, the procession started for Grosvenor Hotel, headed by the brass bands. Progress was slow, for crowds pressed on the carriages and caused confusion; but their hotel was reached at last, and Sullivan and his triends were hurried inside. If sullivan imagined that he had got through with the business of his recoption he made a big mistake. The crowd had no intention of clearing off until they had had another good look at him and heard his voice. So they shouted and cheered for Sullivan, and bands kept up the enthusiasm and noise until the champion stepped forward onto the veranda in full view of the multitude.

One mighty shout went up, and then there was a momentary silence, for it was seen their hero was about to speak. The oration was not long, but it was crisp and appropriate to the occasion.

"I thank you," said Sullivan, "for your kindness to me this evening. As a descendant of Erio's Isle I will endeavor always to prove myself worthy of your attention, and to uphold the honor of my father's native land.

Tunultuous cheering followed, and the band struck up again and marched off, followed by the warmth of his reception in the land of his forelathers.

It is reported that the fight between Sullivan

HARPER FOUND GUILTY. He is Sentenced to Ten Years in the Obic

CINCINNATI, Dec. 12.-A great crowd assembled this morning long before the time for the opening of the court. At 10 o'clock Judge Sage appeared, and seven minutes later the jury filed in. As soon as they were seated Judge Sage asked if they had agreed upon their verdict, and the forman said they had. The Judge directed the clerk to receive it. At this point Mr. Blackburn called the Court's attention to the absence of the defendant.

"Let him be brought in," said the Judge. In two minutes Marshal Urner entered, folowed by Mr. Harper, looking pale and concerned. Behind him came his wife, her face a study. It looked as if she was upborne by a faith that in some way she was to hear some good news from that jury. Miss Matthews, her sister, followed. When they were seated the clerk took the scaled envelope enclosing the verdict, tore it open, and read the words:

We, the jury, find the defendant guity as charged in the indictment.

sister, followed. When they were sented the clerk took the sealed envelope enclosing the vordict, tore it open, and read the words:

Was the jury, find the defendant gulty as charged in the indictinent.

This meant guilty on all the thirty-three counts left for the jury to act upon. Mrs. Harper sat as if transfixed, but Miss Matthews found relief in texts, which she struggled with all her power to repress. Mr. Blackburn moved an arrest of judgment, which the Curt instantly overruied. Then District Attorney Burnet moved for immediate sentence, and that the sentence be cumulative.

Judge Sange gave the result of his investigation on the question of cumulative sentences in a case like this, and this gave some relief to Mr. Harper's family. He finally overruled the motion, and asked it the defendant had anything to say before sentence was pronounced upon him.

Mr. Blackburn arose and said that the defendant wished to speak through him, and to say that he had nothing to add to what had been said, except to thank the Court for its fair and impartial treatment, and to ask that the Court be as moreful as the circumstances and the law would permit.

The Court directed Harper to stand up. It was a most distressing scene. The strong man stood erect, with tears coursing down his cheeks. Behind his chair, with bowed head, say his wife in an agony that had no better manifestation than the wringing of her hands. Tears did not come to her relief. Miss Matthews, far more domonstrative, still repressed sobs, and in her own distress reached over to try to comfort her sister by a touch. So they sat while the Court with impressive solemnity recited the usual form of sentence, saying the evidence left no doubt of the defendant of his neck; his arms encompassed her. The silence in the court room was awaid, Jiross wept when any manifestation that there was most herefore for immediate innersonment to begin at once, and that there was much business to be attended to by Mr. Harper in gere after the court, That was the defendant to the Ma

LONDON'S TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

Witnesses Before the Assembly Committee

William Chase Barney, who has spent half s century in the study of electricity and electrical appliances, was a witness yesterday be-fore the Assembly Telephone Investigating Committee. He explained the telephone ser-vice in England, and said it was superior to that in this city. The United Telephone Company, operating in London, he said, pays a dividend of 12 per cent. The London Exdividend of 12 per cent. The London Exchange gives service only on week days between 7 A. M. and 7 P. M. The total cost of an instrument in England is less than $2. He had bought a transmitter for $1.30.

W. M. Rose, formerly Assistant Engineer of the United Telephone Company of London, testified that the cost of construction in London was half as much again as in this city. The wires there are run over housetops, the authorities not allowing poles to be erected, and roofs cent for from £1 to £20. The operators are all women, who are paid much less than in New York. From the system of running the wires ities not allowing poles to be erected, and roofs rent for from £1 to £20. The operators are all women, who are paid much less than in New York. From the system of running the wires over housetops, about double the number of linemen are necessary to keep the wires in repair. The witness thought that services in the two cities were about equally good. The Blake transmitter is used there as liere, and the witness thought a good profit could be made by selling the Blake transmitter for $2.50. Gen. w. H. Eckert, General Superintendent of the Metropolitan Telephone Company, said that the company does not receive over twenty complaints, on an average, each day. Most of those are incidental to storm. In reply to questions by Mr. Camp, witness said that under the underground system the cost of furnishing each subscriber will be $144.70 per annum, and possibly more. He thought that the average life of wire in New York was seven years. The life of the fixtures on housetops will not exceed six years, of the pole about fon years, and of the magneto bell four years. The present lines—poles, wires, &c.—he said, will not be worth a copper when the underground system goes into operation. The cost of taking them down will be $200,000 over and above all that can possibly be realized from their sale. The wire cannot be sold, and the company in 1882 and 1883 was compelled to store a good pertion of the forty-one tons of wires they took down, being unable even to give it away. Farmers took some of it for fencing. Several subscribers who have grievances will be examined to-day.

By disk over 190 New York merchants, bankers, and manufacturers had sent in replies. The great majority of them agreed that telephones have become an unqualified necessity, and that to consider them a furvary would be more or less rank idlocy. There were many complaints of the telephone service, narticularly against the high-priced companies, and there was some comment, about the employment of young women in the general offices. It was complained that they were apparently not paid enough to make them attentive.

Lawyer Forster was about to maye a rejoinder, when Mr. Cole, for the other side, interfered.

"We will produce them before the Surrogate of Eric county." he said, "at the hearing on Thursday at 65 Broadway."

ANALE THE SPINGE SE ETTENDED! The Trustees About Evenly Divided on the Question-Secret Sessions. President Howell and fourteen other bridge trustees were present at the regular monthly meeting yesterday. A discussion in relation to the proposed extension of the bridge up Washington street to City Hall square, in Brooklyn and over which the down-town merchants have been so much excited, was started by the pres entation of this resolution by Mr. Charles 8

Warrar, Public attention has been called to the dis custom as to whether the Brooklyn Bridge should be ex-tended beyond the limits now prescribed by law, and as ly interested; therefore Essoired, That the President of the Board be hereby reextension or non-extension shall be submitted to the voters of Brookiyn at the election to be held next November, said bill to be forwarded by the President of this Reard to the Legislature with a request that that body take action in the matter.

Mr. Van Schaick thought that the people of New York were also just as much interested as those of Brooklyn in all matters pertaining to the bridge, and he moved that they be included in Mr. Higgins' resolution. Mr. Brush said the step proposed would be unwise, as it would assume that they had been guilty of something filegal in their previous action. Mr. Swan suggested that the matter should go over to a future meeting. Ms. Higgins insisted that each trustee should put himself on record on the question involved. Mr. Marshall thought the ultimate growth of the bridge would be to the fork between Washington and Fulton streets, and not to the City Hall square. Mr. Blush moved to lay Mr. Higgins's resolution on the table, and this was done by a vote of 11 to 4. Subsequently Mr. Van Schaick tried to have the resolution removed from the table, but could only muster 5 votes out of 15.

Mr. Van Schaick questioned the right of the trustees to pay for the collectmen's uniforms. President Howell explained that the policemen on the bridge received much lower salaries than the policemen in either city, and that as a matter of fairness it had been decided to pay for their uniforms.

Mr. Higgins made an unsuccessful effort to have all the meetings of the trustees, whether executive or otherwise, thrown open to the press, "All matters," he said, "should be spread before the public. The New York Board of Aldermen once held a very important secret session, and in consequence Jacob Sharp was now suffering in mind and body. He did not want to remain in a body which surrounded itself with any special secrecy." Twelve trustees voted against and only three for Mr. Higgins's resolution.

An application was received from the Down Town Property Holders' Association, which was organized to resist an extension of the bridge beyond Concord street, asking for a hearing before any action should be taken by the trustees. In the midst of a heated discussion, which showed that the trustees were about equally divided on the question of extending the bridge, a motion to adjourn was made a New York were also just as much interested as those of Brooklyn in all matters pertaining to BASE BALL NEWS.

A Scheme to Dispuse of the Indians—The Caruthers Trouble,

A well-known Philadelphia base ball man is about to take upon himself the task of disposing of the Metropolitan Club for one year to parties in Troy. The arrangement will be upon a lease for one year. The idea is to put the club on the old Troy grounds. It will be hard to say, however, whether it will pay at fifty cents admission. As the club stands now, it is no nearer a settlement than it ever was.

The Cincinnati meeting resulted more favorably than any one expected. Times without number a row was threatened between the delegates, but each time it passed over. Of course there were many things done that were not made known, still there was a large amount of work accomplished.

President Byrne of the Brooklyn Club is in Chicago after Caruthers. When Mr. Byrne left Cincinnation Saturday night he intimated that he would bring back a contract with the young pitcher, or find some good reason for not doing so. Mr. Byrne is willing to make any fair terms with Caruthers, but as he has cost the Brooklyn Club some $8.500 up to date, they will stand no nonsense from him.

they will stand no nonsense from him,

Washington, Dec. 10.—In regard to the Arbitration Committee meeting just past Prosident Young says:

"Our meeting was in every way successful. I found nearly all the members of the loard of one mind on the tending questions submitted to us, and the work of putting our conclusions in shape was an easy task. Al. Spalding is entitled to whatever credit attaches to this suggestion. He wrote me as long ago as last May urging the necessity for just such action as we have taken."

The money paid out for the protection of the minors, Mr. Young thinks, will come back to them threefold within the coming season. The only difference will be in the channel, which, under the new laws, will be a legitimate purchase and release of such star players as the small clubs cannot afford to hold, considering their market value.

ng their market value.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 12.—The capture of the first young blood by the Pittsburgh Club was effected to-day. The young man is a catcher and a playor whom President Nimick has been trying to secure for some time. He is Wm. Farmer, a Philisidelphia boy who made a record last season behind the bat for the Shamokon Club, champions of the Pennsylvania State League. He scored a fielding average of 929 and a batting average of 355, and while this is not any too wonderful, considering the company he played in, he gives such encouraging signs of developing into a great playor that President Nimick thinks he has really captured a prize. Farmer is twenty-three years of age, stands 5 feet 11% inches in height, and tips the beam at 187 pounds. He has been in Philadelphia since the close of the season. He formerly played with the Brandywine Club of that city. Farmer was signed for $1,200. President Nimick has again concluded to make a try for young blood, and will sign a new pitcher within a day or so. He is also a promising man.

T. D. G.—One.

Ted Sullivan is in Washington. He has made plans to put a strong club into the field, but will have to exercise a very close supervision over the men he has in mind. He talks of Jack Farrell. Roseman, Gillesnie. Fred Lewis Troy, Saker, Sanning, and Keefe. Some of these men will keep Sullivan guessing throughout the whole season.

WON ON A FOUL.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 12.-The feather-weight championship of Wisconsin was decided in a sharp battle with skin-tight gloves between Louis Brown and Jimmy Lee, puglists of this city, at about 2 o'clock this morning. The fight took place in a beer hall five miles from the receipts. About 300 sports were present. Lee weighed 117 pounds and Brown 119. Up to the third round Brown had a little the best of it, drawing blood in the second, but this was not claimed. In the third round Lee landed a heavy blow on Brown's left eye, and almost heavy blow on Brown's left eye, and almost closed it.

The fourth was a repetition of the previous bout. Lee an in plastering Brown's eye. In the sixth Lee did the same thing. Lee claimed a foul in this round, while Brown had him against the ropes, but it was not allowed. In the seventh Lee claimed that he had been bitten, but got no decision. When time was called for this round Lee was hardly able to get to his corner, and things looked bright for Brown. The eighth was an ugly bout. They clinched several times, and Lee, for the fourth time, criel foul, which was granted, and the fight was awarded to him.

Monday, Dec. 12. The week opened on the Stock Exchange with a fairly active market at generally lower prices. A strong market in London and higher prices there for a few of the leading stocks were ignored. The selling movement began at the opening and before noon had proved effective in nearly every stock on the list. The afternoon market gave indications that the movement had for the moment at least expended itself. It was most pronounced in Union Pacific, Lackawanna, Richmond Terminal, and Reading. There was no news affect ing values, hence the sales may be fairly attributed to the dissatisfaction of the traders for long account and the efforts of the bears to emphasize that feeling. It is argued, and with a good deal of plausibility, that the decline is to an extent manipulated with the view of enforcing arguments against the policy outlined by the President's message. The conditions surrounding the speculation at the moment render such manipulation easy, since there is a natural reluctance on the part of nearly every one to engage in any new speculative venture toward the close of the year. Moreover, the prospective discussion in Congress of tariff and inancial measures, while it may result in a erations now, because the direction of that discussion is unknown.

The decline in Union Pacific, which was the most extensive of any, was attended by rumors that the majority report of the Pacific Bailroad Commission would receive the endorsement of the Administration. These rumors are con-trary to the well-known disposition of the Adbusinesslike manner. The selling of Reading was attended by reports of a strike of its employees. These were authoritatively de-nied. The effect of the declaration of the usual semi-annual dividend upon the Richmond Terminal preferred stock was disastrous to both classes of the stock. Outside of these both classes of the stock. Outside of these three stocks the market presented few features.

Some of the specialties suffered material losses, notably Fort Worth, which was sold upon rumors of an issue of new stock in connection with the extension of the road. It was also reported that those engaged in building the road were marketing the stock received in payment for their work. Canadian Pacific was higher, on account of purchases for foreign account. Kausas and Texas was also an exception in gaining by the day's business, presumably because the Dutch holders of the company's securities have determined to organize to protect their interest in the property. It is understood that this movement on the part of the foreign holders of the company's securities will meet with copperation on the part of domestic holders. In the last hour or so the market became quieter and improved slightly, so that the closing was fairly steady.

In the Unlisted Department Cotton Oil Trusts declined from 30 to 29%, closing at the lower

beneficiary stock advanced from 7% to 8. Chicago Gas Trusts sold at 87. Kingston and Pembroke from Mining at $2. and Sutro Tunnel at 24 to 20 cents per share.

Government bonds strong and fairly active. The usual investments in these bonds, in order to escape taxation, are now being made. The 4s closed % Weent, higher bid. Railway bonds in better demand. The volume of business, however, was moderate. The noteworthy net advances were in Chesapeake and Ohio currency 6s, 1% Weent, to 18%; Detroit, Mackinaw and Marquette land grants, 2, to 32; Kansas and Texas consols 7s, 4, to 105%; Kansas and Texas general 6s, %, to 70%, and 5s, 2%, to 63, and 8t, Paul, H. and D. division 5s, 1% cent., to 98; Fire 2ds declined 1% Weent, to 98%, and 8t. Paul, C, and P. W. division 1sts, % Weent, to 102%.

Money on call easy at 4@5 Weest. Time money was freely offered to-day at 5% Weent, upon dividend-paying collateral. Time loans are negotiated on Government bonds at 2 % cent.

In bank stocks 14 shares of Bank of Republic sold at 142.

Messra, R. P. Flower and William Rockefeller have declined to stand for election as directors of the Richmond and West Point Terminal Company. They will, however, be elected at the stockholders' meeting to-morrow, as the time is too short to permit of a consultation with all the interests relative to a new ticket.
Moreover all of the proxise have been given with instructions to vote for the ticket as made up before Messra. Flower and Rockefeller expressed their dissatisfaction.

The ticket that will be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the New York and New England Railroad Company to-day is as follows: J. A. Bosteich, J. L. Macauley, W.
H. Starbuck, Sidney Dillon, Thomas Rutter, A.
E. Orr, Ex. Norton, W. P. Shinn, and Henry
Hentz of New York: Eustace C. Fit,
Jonas H. French, M. T. Stevens, and Stern
Morse of Boston: Nicholas Sheldon and B. G.
Yaugha of Providence, R. L., and Messra, Howard, Farrell, and Landers, representing local interests in Connecticut. The members who served last year are printed in italics.
The retiring members of the Board are Stanton Blake, George M. Rice, Fred. J. Kinsbury,
W. H. Stevenson, Vernon H., Brown, Heman
Clark, John G. Moore, H. V. Newcombe, T. W.
Pearsail, and Elijah Smith. It is not clear what interest, if any, predominates in the new Board.
